SUMMARY

Welcome to the future; it's not tomorrow, it's today. In today's world, we need things that are convenient, portable, and easy to use. When on the go, it can be difficult to sanitize clothing or dry it without a full washer and dryer system. The IQNomad™ is a simple solution to those issues. Perhaps it was raining and your gloves are soaked but you need them again soon so what do you do? Pay the full price and find a dryer somewhere to dry them? What a major hassle that is. Instead, why not have a portable unit that can not only dry your items but also disinfect them at the same time?

The IQNomad™ is designed to have a sleek futuristic look, but have all the functionality we expect from devices today. There is a handle on top for simple carrying, a solid swinging door just like any front load dryer, a base for stability, a touch screen panel for convenience and options, and even a detachable remote so you can control the functions from a distance. This unit is portable and can be taken anywhere but just because it's small doesn't mean it lacks in features. This thing is loaded with different features for multiple uses.

Step out of the days of the old and into the future with the IQNomad™. Don't rush around trying to find a laundromat paying a premium to stand in line and wait forever just to dry something. Plus, you have the bonus of keeping your clothes disinfected at the same time. Never having to share with someone else who may have destroyed the unit before you. Get your portable system and have everyone wondering how they can get one too!
